

Mindful Living Collective - Summary Snapshot

2026-05-09

Soldotna, Alaska | Data through February 2026

Mindful Living Collective (MLC) operates The Goods (retail), Where It's At! (restaurant and catering), and serves as community home for the Kenai Local Food Connection in Soldotna, Alaska. Established in December 2021 with a mission of empowering local farmers, food manufacturers, artists, and entrepreneurs, MLC is one of the central Kenai Peninsula's primary hubs for locally grown and locally made goods.

Community Impact

Alaska imports the vast majority of its food. Since opening, MLC has worked to change that locally:

- $1,934,366 in total retail sales through February 2026
- Local food products purchased from 187 local farmers and food manufacturers
- Goods sold or consigned from more than 60 local artists, makers, and entrepreneurs
- Community home for the Kenai Local Food Connection and an anchor for local food, music, and arts events

Financial Snapshot

Profit & Loss history	November 2021 — February 2026 (52 months, cash basis)
Lifetime retail sales	$1,934,366
Cumulative net income (all time)	-$233,504

The business moved toward breakeven through 2023–2024, with mid-2025 being the most stable period on record. Revenue has declined in early 2026; the full report provides a detailed month-by-month breakdown and viability analysis.

Business Expenses by Category

Payroll is by far the largest operating expense, reflecting MLC’s commitment to employing local staff. Rent and utilities reflect the cost of maintaining a physical community space.

Total Business Expenses by Category

All operating expenses through February 2026

Cost of Goods by Category

Local produce, eggs, meat, and other locally grown products represent the single largest category of MLC’s purchasing - a direct reflection of the business’s commitment to supporting local producers.

Total Cost of Goods by Category

All purchases made by MLC through February 2026

Local Food Purchases

MLC purchases local produce, eggs, meat, and other locally grown and manufactured food products directly from Alaskan farmers and producers. The chart below shows annual spending in this category since opening.

What Comes Next

MLC is asking the community to engage. Revenue in early 2026 is below what the business needs to sustain operations — the community gathering space, the local food network, and the market for local producers all depend on returning to a viable revenue level.

Every dollar of revenue, every catering booking, and every new owner-investor matters.

To learn more about the Pathways to 1% Ownership program or to get involved, contact Willow King at thegoodsalaska@gmail.com.

For the full report, visit the main page. Contact: Willow King (thegoodsalaska\(at\)gmail.comgmail.com)) or Benjamin Meyer (rivuletresearch\(at\)gmail.comgmail.com)).